

Sisters Abreast

New Brighton support group for women with breast cancer under the age of 45

A breast cancer diagnosis is a trauma at any age. However, young women going through such an experience face unique physical, psychological, and social issues.

“Sisters abreast” is a new Brighton-based informal support group run by women for women diagnosed with breast cancer under the age of 45 (premenopausal at diagnosis). Speakers and topics will be arranged based on the needs of the group.

Meeting Dates:

Third Thursday of the month 6:30pm to 8:30pm

Launch meeting - 15th June 2017

Meeting Venue:

Horizon view room - The Macmillan Horizon Centre.

2 Bristol Gate, Brighton, BN2 5BD (across the road from the Sussex Cancer Centre at the Royal Sussex Hospital in Kemptown, Brighton)

Free Parking for groups after 6:00pm

(on the right hand side just before you approach the centre)

For More Information:

Please contact group founder - Grazia at graziademichele@gmail.com