

HELP US TELL OUR STORY!

Could you help us tell the story of the difference we make?

WORKSHOP

for Horizon Centre users and volunteers

Friday 27 October, 11am – 1pm with free lunch provided

The Horizon Centre is here to make as much difference as we possibly can to people affected by cancer across Sussex.

Throughout October we're trying to map out all the differences we make - to those who visit the centre and those we contact out in the community; to those who volunteer with us; and to our various NHS partners. After that we're going to plan how we can measure the difference we make (our impact) and tell others our impact story.

We're running a workshop to understand different views about how we make a difference and would love to invite you to attend.

What will you be asked about if you take part?

This workshop will look at our story from the perspective of those who benefit from our support. We'll chat as a group and look at questions like ...

- What difference do YOU think we make and HOW do we make a difference?
- Are there OTHER THINGS we could do to make a difference?
- How could we involve you and others affected by cancer in measuring our impact and telling our story in the future.

What will happen in the workshop?

The workshop will be delivered by someone independent from outside the Horizon Centre and will involve discussion, feedback, meeting others who use the centre or volunteer with us, sharing ideas and views, probably sticking post-it notes on the wall and definitely eating cake! You can contribute as little or as much as you like without pressure. We want it to be an interesting and enjoyable session where everyone can take part and all views and ideas are welcomed.

Please let us know if you'd like to attend. If you can spare time and come along, please e-mail horizoncentre@macmillan.org.uk or call 01273 468770
